Trains To Pikeville.

Track laying on the C. & O. extension has reached Pikeville and it is reported that regular train service will be inaugurated with the new schedule that is put out in May on the C. & O. system. If this report be true the service will begin much sooner than expected. The extension of the U. S. Mail service to Pikeville by train may be confidently looked for about September 1st. It is said the C. & O. will build depots at Pikeville like those at Louisa. A building has been secured there for temporary use as a depot.

The wickets were raised yesterday at Lock number one in order to give the Donora sufficient water to get to Louisa on her way to Salt Peter, seven miles up Tug river. The Donora has a heavy load of machinery which will be used in the construction of Lock number one Tug. While the wickets are up the steam dredge, which it is impossible to bring out on the present low stage, will be towed down from Lock number two and will be used in digging away sand piled in front of the gate, and the lock will then be opened for actual service for the first time since completion last August. The steam dredge will be the first vessel of any kind to go through the lock—Catlettsburg Press.

The entertainment given at the Masonic Opera House last Friday evening for the benefit of the M. E. Church South repair fund was quite a success, financially and otherwise. The affair was under the management of Mrs. Mary Horton and Mrs. J. G. Burns, and the manner in which it was executed reflects considerable credit upon them. Greenup, Ky., April 22.—The saddest scene ever witnessed by Greenup county's was when the bodies of the five victims of the West Virginia mine explosion were unloaded here this afternoon. Hundreds of people were assembled at the depot and the listless of relatives was heartrending and pitiful. The remains of Charles Nichols and Oscar Crump were accompanied by their young wives Morey Darby, who was seriously injured, accompanied the remains of William Allen, Mrs. Nichols and Albert Green. They were taken from here to Putnam, where they will be buried tomorrow.

Wholesale clothing prices that save you all the profits. Pierce & Derrick.

Candidacy of John G. Burns.

We, a few of the business men of Louisa who are familiar with the methods used by John Burns as a tax collector, desire to say to the voters of the county a few words in his behalf. First he has been a collector of school and city taxes for six years. In all those years he has collected, and what is better, has paid over every cent of the tax. Secondly, in all these years he has been never made a levy, never sold a hoof nor an acre nor any other article. We doubt if any other officer in this county has such a record. So you see the just revenues have been collected, as the law says they must be, and yet no man, rich or poor, has been distressed. It is simply the result of knowing what to do and how to do it. This statement is a true one and due Mr. Burns because we learn that he is being held up in the country as an oppressor, one who distrains and sells without mercy, when the reverse is true. He gives every body, and especially the poor, plenty of time. Again, he is a sober man, a good business man, and a man who will execute all papers put into his hands, letting no fear of personal safety cause him to swerve an inch from the performance of his duty. These, it seems to us, constitute the making of a good sheriff. You should nominate him next Saturday if you want your candidate elected. He should carry these two town precincts almost unanimously and will poll Republican votes in all precincts of the county, no matter who is nominated by that party. Another thing in Burns' favor is the character and sufficiency of the bond he can give. It will be a personal bond, and in a sum, or represented by bondsmen, sufficient to cover many times the possible revenue or other money which could come to his hands.

There you have it. Sobriety, business methods, qualifications as the right sort of a collector, courage as an officer of the law, honesty and the assurance that the revenue and other moneys will be amply secured by bond. These things should secure him the nomination. Taxpayers.

Change in Trains.

It is reported that a new time card will go into effect on the C. & O. on June 1st, with trains about as follows: Trains from Pikeville leave Ashland at 7 a. m. and 2 p. m. The trains coming from Pikeville pass here at 9:10 a. m. and 3:10 p. m. The arrangement will not prove very satisfactory, because it misses all connections below. If the company would have the evening train leave Ashland after the arrival of the Cincinnati train at 2:37 it would be a very great improvement over the proposed arrangement. This could be done and still put the train to Pikeville by 8 or 8:30 p. m.

Inspector of Lock No. 1.

W. G. Rathbone, lock tender of lock number one, Big Sandy River, has been notified by Lieut. P. S. Bond that he has been appointed inspector of construction of Lock No. 1, Levisa Fork, to take effect at once. This will mean a substantial increase of salary for Mr. Rathbone, as well as for his successor Hiram Crabtree, who has heretofore filled the position of assistant lock tender at the lock here. Mr. Rathbone will assume the duties of his new position in the very near future.—Catlettsburg Press.

FLAT GAP.

Your writer has just returned from Paintsville and found our beautiful little town almost swept away in the flames. The fire originated from L. S. Williams' cook stove, burned his residence with contents. Also, C. F. Webb's dwelling with small amount of home hold goods saved. A $1,200 building owned by W. A. Conley, of Portsmouth, O. J. H. Sturgill's store the contents partially saved though badly damaged. Dr. P. P. Mead's office was at once consumed with contents and many other buildings caught fire but were saved. W. B. Walter's store narrowly escaped, his goods were thrown into the public highway. The damage as well as can be ascertained will reach $1,000.00.

I notice three drummers in our town today.

Mr. Back, the horse buyer, was here and left with 12 fine horses for Charley.

L. C. Ferguson, the hustling salesman for Dixon, Moore & Co., was in our midst looking up a trade.

Mildred Carter was in our town and did not look like the same place. Guess Moore, of Charley, was here looking after the horse business. Guess is a hustler.

N. W. Williams, our hustling Merchant, was in town having his tools repaired and said there is more in raising big corn than tearing calves.

G. F. Hatfield has taught a fine line of spring and summer goods.

S. A. Walters had a fine run on timber. You ought to see the long smile on his face. We need many men in our county like shade.

Your writer seems to have been dormant, but again has arisen to a sense of duty. Hugan.

Death of Mrs. T. B. Myers.

Mrs. T. B. Myers died Tuesday night at 12 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Yates, at this place. She had been in ill health for two years or more, being afflicted with tuberculosis and heart disease. She came here several weeks ago from her home at Parkersburg, W. Va. The hopelessness of her condition was realized for some time previous to the end.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at one o'clock from the M. E. Church South. Rev. O. F. Williams, the pastor, conducted the services. The church was filled with friends of the deceased. After the services the body was taken to the Fullerton Cemetery, where interment was made.

Eldridge, Mrs. C. T. Reynolds and Miss Lillie Yates.

Mrs. Myers was a member of the Presbyterian Church, having joined in Huntington several years ago. She was a faithful wife, devoted mother and affectionate daughter. As a young lady she was popular, being of a bright and friendly disposition. Condolence is extended to the deeply bereaved family.

The pall bearers were as follows: Honorary—Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Mrs. G. R. Vinson, Mrs. Mary Burns Horton, Mrs. A. M. Hughes, Mrs. Josephine Rice and Miss Maggie Hatcher. Active—W. N. Sullivan, M. S. Burns, Wm. Remmele, F. L. Stewart, C. T. Rule, A. O. Carter, John P. Gartin and M. F. Conley.
